

On National Tequila Day Go Beyond The Margarita

July 24, 2020

You can find me at the confluence of food, beverage and travel.

National Tequila Day is an actual ‘holiday’. It is celebrated annually on the 24th of July. And it’s best enjoyed with a glass of your favorite agave spirit in hand, of course. Or maybe you’ll opt to craft it into its most popular cocktail arrangement. If you’re in Mexico, it won’t be the one you’re probably expecting.

South of the border, the margarita is hardly the number one way in which to imbibe tequila. It’s not even close. That title would belong to the paloma—an easy combination of 1 part native spirit to 2 parts grapefruit soda, with a splash of lime juice and a pinch of salt.

Finally, if you’re more of a brunch-time sipper, Tequila Comisario offers its own Bloody Mary variation below:

<h2>BLOODY MARY</h2> <h3>REPOSADO</h3> Add tequila into tall glass with ice. Fill remainder of the glass with juices, add remaining ingredients. Garnish with a celery stick.		<h2>PREPARATION</h2> <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>3 Parts Reposado Tequila Comisario</li><li>6 Parts Tomato Juice</li><li>1/2 Parts lime</li><li>1 Dash celery Salt</li><li>1 Dash Black Pepper</li><li>1 Dash Tobasco sauce</li><li>1/2 Teaspoon Horseradish Sauce</li></ul>
